What should be kept in a Safe deposit box...

What you keep in your safe deposit box is up to you. However, since many people are uncertain about what a box should contain, here are some suggestions that might be helpful: birth certificates, automobile titles, service records, insurance policies, passports, leases, marriage license, jewelry, rare coins, stocks, and trust documents.

Safety Deposit Box Fees

Did you know... we can automatically take your fee out of your account every year?

No need to even come in!

What should not be kept in a Safe deposit box...

Since many boxes are sealed upon the death of the owner, they should not contain documents which will be needed immediately, such as a deed to a cemetery plot, instructions on funeral arrangements, etc.

You may want to structure the ownership of the box contract to include someone you trust that knows where your keys are in the event you are unable to access or in the event of your untimely death.
